Garrison Art Center is pleased to present smallWORKS 2020, a national juried biennial exhibition presenting seventy works selected from over five hundred entries. Works were not to exceed 12" in any direction. Excellence awards for best 2D and 3D work, as well as honorable mentions, will be announced at the opening reception. The exhibition will be on view in the Gillette Gallery December 5, 2020 - January 3, 2021 with an opening reception on December 5, from 5-7pm following Covid-19 protocols.

This year's esteemed juror is Paulien Lethen. Paulien is a Dutch artist and gallery owner. She opened Holland Tunnel Art Newburgh/Gallery and Studios in May of 2018 shortly after she became a resident of Newburgh, NY. Recognizing a lively local art community, she sets out to create a new place for exhibitions, performances, concerts, movie screenings and art studios. Her goal is to create a cultural venue and art center where art and people can get together. In Newburgh, Lethen feels the same exciting artistic energy of Williamsburg where she first established Holland Tunnel Gallery in 1997. The Brooklyn gallery gained recognition in the international art world and became a neighborhood icon as a microcosm of local and international talent. It enjoyed a successful run until 2007. Holland Tunnel Gallery Paros, on the island of Paros, Greece, opened in 2000 and is still an elegant space for summer concerts, poetry readings, artist talks, and art classes.
